

Wellington US Quality Growth Fund

Important Information

1. The Fund primarily invests in a concentrated portfolio of US companies.
2. The Fund is therefore exposed to general equity market risks, currency risks, hedging risks, tax risk and geographic concentration risks. The Fund's holdings will be concentrated in a relatively small number of securities and is susceptible to higher volatility.
3. The Fund may use financial derivative instruments (FDIs) for investment and hedging purposes. The use of leverage can result in a loss significantly greater than the amount invested in the FDI by the Fund. Exposure to FDIs may lead to a high risk of significant loss by the Fund.
4. Investors should not make investment decisions based on this document alone. Investors should refer to the Prospectus and Key Facts Statement for details including risk factors.
5. The Fund's investment portfolio may fall in value and therefore your investment in the Fund may suffer losses. There is no guarantee of the repayment of principal.

♦ All figures are for Wellington Management Group of companies as of 31 December 2022. ♦ The Global Cycle Index is Wellington Management's proprietary index constructed to quantify trends in global economic activity and is a combination of seven components: industrial confidence, consumer confidence, capacity utilisation, unemployment rate, global curve, policy uncertainty and M&A activity. The Global Cycle Index combines these seven forward-looking macro variables and assumptions to indicate the direction of the global economic cycle. Assumptions are based on historical performance and expectations of the future outcomes, and as such the analysis is subject to numerous limitations. Future occurrences and results will differ, perhaps significantly, from those reflected in the assumptions. Correlation refers to total time period. Chart data: 31 January 1988 – 31 March 2023. Benchmark = S&P500 Index. [◇] For illustrative purposes only. 5-year average ROE is the weighted average net income divided by shareholder's equity over the last five years for the underlying holdings within the Fund/the benchmark. The higher the ROE, the better a company is at converting its equity financing into profits. 5-year expected growth of earnings is the weighted average forecast annual growth rate of earnings per share in local currency over the next five years for the underlying equity holdings within the Fund/the benchmark. The P/E ratio indicates how much investors are willing to pay per dollar of earnings. Positive ROE/expected earnings growth/projected P/E ratio does not imply positive return. [^] The individual issuers listed should not be considered a recommendation to buy or sell. The weightings do not reflect exposure gained through the use of derivatives. Holdings vary and there is no guarantee that the Fund currently holds any of the securities listed. Please refer to the annual and semi-annual report for the full holdings. # Totals may not add up to 100% due to rounding.
